ATTENTION!

You cannot choose separate courses from a module, you always need to take the whole module, e.g. “Naturwissenschaften” → you need to take all three courses:

- Angewandte Physik
- Chemie
- Physikalisches Praktikum

This information can be found in the Module Handbooks! Make sure that if the module consists of more than one course, all of them are offered in the summer term!
